This Volume will bring to mind some of the events in our college life which occurred in the stirring year, 1948-49. It has been a year hardly less stirring and interesting to faculty members and to me than to students.

Somebody has suggested that in reality there are at least three colleges: the one experienced by the students, the one experienced by faculty members and the one experienced by the administration. Even if this be an oversimplified truth, I suggest that one of our goals should be the bringing together of these viewpoints so that students may see the college from the viewpoint of the more mature members of the community and faculty and administration may see it from the students' viewpoint.

This year there has seemed to be a more thorough integration of all members of Northwestern State College into the college community. The year has been one of cooperative growth and development, very joyful at times and very exasperating at others. At our best we have experienced what a democratic society may accomplish when most members are working together for the good of all; at worst, but very infrequently, we have seen how a misguided few can disrupt and temporarily thwart the well-intended program and will of the majority. In fine, we have seen the strengths and weaknesses of a democracy exemplified in our own college community.

These evidences of progress and these growing pains are but the beginning of our all-out effort to bring Northwestern State College of Louisiana up to a realization of its opportunities as a great institution of higher education. In continuing this enterprise, may I count on every one of you, student, faculty member, staff member or alumnus? This College has a valid claim on you for your sincerest effort and highest devotion.

JAMES OTTO LANCASTER
Student Body President

At times neglecting the problems domestic for problems of state, which they felt more important to student interests and more urgently in need of their trail-blazing attention, the 1948-'49 Student Council took a major part in the formation of a Federation of Louisiana Colleges and Universities. After journeying up North to investigate the advantages and benefits of affiliation with the National Student Association, the Council delegates reported to the student body that they felt a comparable regional set-up would better serve the purpose. They then took the leading role in creating such an organization.

The usual awards were presented to deserving students; the elections were executed and the various other executive functions performed in a manner befitting the ability and integrity of those students who made up the Council. The Council took a step forward in commissioning the Student Senate as the student legislative body, and worked with the Senate in drawing up a much improved constitution. They succeeded in maintaining harmony among the varied campus activity groups and organizations and averted any student strikes or violent controversies. Efforts were also put forth to stop "vandalism" to state property during the football season. Though not always successful, the Student Council did much for which they are to be commended.

The Associated Women Students is an organization of all women students registered at the college. The object of this organization is to cooperate with the Dean of Women and her staff in promoting intellectual, social, and spiritual welfare of women students, to develop a deep sense of self responsibility, to instill a spirit of friendship and co-operation, and to uphold high social and academic standards among women students of the college. The organization sponsors certain social events and promotes participation of women students in campus activities.

During its third year of existence the Student Honor Court continued to diligently pursue the building of higher standards of citizenship among men students at Northwestern State. The Court has succeeded in establishing itself as a fair, impartial body working to equitably administer justice.

The Student Honor Court is a self-perpetuating body with its justices selected each year by the court from an eligible list of appointees presented by the mens' dormitory councils. Selected on the basis of their character, scholarship, leadership and interest in student welfare, the students serving as justices and in the other required capacities take their responsibility and obligation seriously and perform their duties consciously.

The year saw two capable men direct the Court's activities. In the fall Julius Yellott served the office of Chief Justice and upon his graduation, the court selected Leonard Grems to take the helm.

Hearings were given many students during the year, each having benefit of a defense council. The Court follows consistently a policy of justice tempered with mercy attempting to help the guilty rather than mete out punishment.

Projects of the Court include the presentation of Freshman awards to a number of men students who, in the opinion of the Court, best exemplify the ideals of citizenship in their campus life during the preceding year.

As the year comes to an end plans are going ahead to make the Student Honor Court an even more integral part of progressive student government. These plans include having the Court selected by a larger group of students and assigning it the function of a true judicial branch of a stronger and more practical student government. This would mean enlarging the scope of the Court's activities from merely a disciplinary tribunal to that of a judicial council having final authority in constitutional and regulatory law on the campus.

With the accent on features and a collegiate approach to the presentation of the news, the CURRENT SAUCE, with a new banner and a new Editor, embarked on another year of trial-and-error attempts to please everybody. The sum total of such efforts, as any ex-editor will tell you, one more disillusioned group of budding journalists.

On top of the usual rush of dead-lines and headlines, Editor Choate and underlings found time to interview Hoagy Carmichael, give an all-college dance and get evaluated almost as many times as they put her to bed.

The year saw frequent changes in staff line-up, from top to bottom. Most of the time, however, Joe

Choate ruled the staff get-togethers; Fred Bandy was first mate; McConnell and Murphy sold an ad or two; Henry Berry, Dennis McMullan, Archie Singletary, Leon Lindsay,, Jim Falkner, Jan-An LeBlanc and others performed various functions ranging from sports to socials. Everybody took a hand at, for the most part, inconsequential editorials, and the Letters-to-the-Editor served as a column for publicizing ambitious campus wheels.

A list of students too long and fluctuating to list here also had a part in the '48-'49 edition of the venerable Sauce. All in all, the unpredictable rag has added another stormy year to its quaint history in true-to-form razzle-dazzle fashion.

The POTPOURRI Ball was a success (excepting certain vehement critics) . . . everybody seemed to enjoy having their picture made . . . many people volunteered for the staff . . . the budget looked healthy, and life was generally rosy. It wasn't. And, with it, came the most important of all dead-lines; come out on time. At this writing we can only hope, and are glad that the office light bill doesn't go on the budget.

If not blame it on Tom Phillips, who held the reins and cracked the whip; La Delle Sandifer, who tried to make ends meet; Marvin Carter and Jim Utilizing every medium from gymnastics to jitterbugging, the 1948-'49 edition of Demon Cheerleaders headed by "Frenchy" Brasseaux worked diligently to draw moral support from a sometimes stubborn student body. They were there at bonfires, pep rallies, football and basketball games, and wherever needed to bolster spirit; proving again that N.S.C. bows to no school when it comes to cheerleaders.

Pictured here is the sextet of "rah rousers" who served the Demon cause during this athletic season.

Elected just before the first football game in the Fall, they served through basketball season. They are: Donald Brasseaux who hails from Vermillion Parish serving his third successful year; Harrison Young, of Natchitoches, another three year repeater; Jo Johnson and Louis Farmer, two Shreveport products, both second year hands; Joanne Hough, another Shreveport lassie, for her first year; Evelyn Clair Hollis from Bossier City who proved a very popular first year yell-leader also.

The loosely organized Student Legislature of last year emerged during 1948-'49 as a dynamic, homogeneous organization with a new name and a clear goal in mind. Under the able leadership of Ralph Ropp, the twenty upper-classmen renamed the body, The Student Senate, and promptly set about to take the leadership in a move to reorganize student government. Their goal? . . . to make student government more representative and conducive to student interests.

Commissioned by the Student Council to write a new constitution, the Senators worked diligently to formulate a plan of government which would best serve the interests and meet the needs of the student body. A draft was completed in time for spring election, and it was modeled after that of the Federal government with Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches vested with clearly defined jurisdiction and responsibility.

For the Student Senate, 1948-'49 was a productive year. They won the respect and admiration of the student body for a task well done, a year well served.

R. L. Ropp, forensics coach, termed this year's debate squad "one of the best in the history of Northwestern State."

Statistics bear out that statement. Participating in 6 tournaments, the debaters copped over 60% of more than 200 events entered. Meets entered were those at Ada, Oklahoma, L.S.U., Conway, Arkansas, Nacogdoches, Texas, the Louisiana Forensics, on this campus, and the Southern Tourney at Baylor, which had not been held at the time of this writing.

Jan An LeBlanc and Julia McBroom took first in Junior Women's debate at Ada and Ewing and Marjorie White were second in Inexperienced Women's. George Alexander was second in the after-dinner speaking contest.

At L.S.U. LeBlanc and McBroom were again first in their division. Leon Lindsay and Ted Roberts tied for second in the Senior Men's bracket.

Ewing and White won second place at the Mid-South in Conway in Junior Women's, and George Black and Jack Harrington reached the semi-finals in the Senior Men's division.

At Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, all six teams entered got into the elimination rounds. Two Senior Men's teams, Jack Harrington and Bob Weimar, and Leon Lindsay and Ted Roberts, reached the semi-finals. Ewing and White tied with LeBlanc and McBroom for first in Junior Women's.

In the home tournament, in which there were 223 participants from 24 colleges and universities, LeBlanc and McBroom again swept their division, and three Senior Men's teams, Leon Lindsay and Bob Weimar, George Black and Ralph Ropp, and Jack Harrington and Ted Roberts, tied for second place. James Johnson won poetry reading, and Ropp, who previously took second in radio at Nacogdoches, took the same honor again.

LeBlanc, McBroom, Harrington, Roberts, and Ropp entered the Southern at Waco, Texas, with good prospects. This tournament concluded a highly successful season for the 22 member N.S.C. forensics squad.

With service as its motto and its unfailing tradition, the Purple Jacket Club holds the distinction of being the oldest honor organization on the campus. Its membership is a complement of ten sorority and eleven non-sorority girls who serve the college as its official representatives and in other capacities whenever asked to do so.

The girls who receive the high honor of being named to membership in the Club at the annual Spring Calling are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and loyalty to the Alma Mater.

The aim of each Purple Jacket is the building of a greater Northwestern State College; to this end the group remains ready to serve.

DWIGHT G. DAVIS
Director

Maintaining its full instrumentation and balance, the Northwestern State Band has provided a welcome and entertaining program as well as complimentary representation for the school on many occasions. Under the direction of Dwight Davis, the band served as an invaluable part of athletic programs and provided the needed boost to school spirit with its on-field maneuvers and peppy music.

Off the campus, this qualified group represented the college in the annual State Fair festivities and participated in the first "Northwestern State Day" in Alexandria. The Band's performance in parades and half-time ceremonies at these events were complimentary to the College and the Music Department. In the spring the band presented musical programs to several North Louisiana audiences in a regional tour of the State.

With a complement of nearly one-hundred musicians at his disposal, Director Davis led the band in many campus performances. They supplied music for assemblies and radio broadcasts and presented concerts, which, with activities of the other music organizations on the campus, provided a well-rounded music program for Northwestern State.

The college choir, under the able direction of Donald G. Glattly, continued to be considered one of the best trained and noted musical groups in Louisiana. With more than a hundred voices it was another of the largest and most active choral groups in the school's history, developed since Don Glattly assumed charge of choral activities at Northwestern State. The enthusiasm of the many students who were members of Chorus and College Singers this year is tribute to the popularity and ability of Mr. Glattly.

Presentation of Handel's difficult and beautiful oratorio "The Messiah" was again one of the high-lights of the Christmas Season. Their very creditable performance of the great classic met with the acclaim of students, townspeople and out-of-town visitors and is now well established as an annual program. Another annual feature of the choir's activities is the popular Spring Concert of A Cappelle selections.

Nucleus of the chorus is a smaller group of more experienced choristers who form the College Singers. This compact and select body serves as the "traveling squad" of musical good will for the college. Out-of-town programs and local broadcasts have made them well known to this section of the state. The College Singers conducted a spring tour of a number of state schools and performed for many civic meetings in Natchitoches.

VAL HILL
Conductor

Barely two years old, the Northwestern State Symphony Orchestra enjoyed another successful season of progress and acclaim under the capable direction of Val Hill. Mr. Hill came as the year began to assume the duties left vacant when Professor John Shenaut left to direct the Shreveport Symphony. The year 1948-'49 saw the Orchestra come of age as it presented the music of Tschaiikowsky, Rossini, Romberg and Gould with the finesse of a more experienced and seasoned group.

The year began with the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" accompanying the Chorus commendably for the third year. Presenting numerous concerts and programs before the student body, citizens of Natchitoches and Winnfield, and broadcasting for the first time were other notable achievements of the year.

Consisting of forty members, the Orchestra is made up mainly of students but draws heavily upon members of the Natchitoches Symphony, of which Mr. Hill is also director. The success of the Orchestra's third season is due largely to the worthy talent and efforts of Director Val Hill.

Mr. Hill is an accomplished violinist and violist, a graduate of the American Conservatory and Nebraska University, and, together with his talented wife, gave many programs for local and radio audiences during the year. He plans extensive tours for the N.S.C. Symphony during the coming year.

THE DEMONAIRES

Student director Paul Gaines molded old timers and newcomers into a smoothly working musical unit. As usual, the Demonaires were on hand for the all college dances, and furnished jive for private functions as well. Leader Gaines and his band ably assisted by a couple of hip vocalists, ventured onto the airways with a successful series of broadcasts over the local radio station. Members of the band are: Saxophones: Therrel Hassell, Arthur Benny, Floyd Fisher, Hubert Eelists, Marlin Sledge; Trombones: Paul Gaines, Hank Campbell; Trumpets: Don Fontenot, Sonny Greer, Elbert Self, Johnny Davis; Guitar: Harry Evans; Bass: Glen Gardner; Drums: Gene Flores; Piano: Carolyn Jones; and Vocalists: Johnnie Mae Campbell, and Johnny Davis.

In June of 1948, Northwestern State College embarked on a far-reaching educational enterprise, the Summer Theatre Workshop. This program was designed to present to the summer student body a series of seven plays over a nine-week period with the students enrolled for the course participating in all phases of dramatic activity. Twenty students from Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, California and New Jersey joined in the presentation of The Family Upstairs, Bertha the Beautiful Typewriter Girl, The Ghost of a Chance, Applesauce, Stairs of Sand, Tiger House, and Blossom in November.

Northwestern State College received excellent national publicity through the establishment of this program not only from the number of students from far-away places who attended to return to their respective schools and to tell the story of NSC but through publication of pictures of The Ghose of A Chance in the script along with the cast of the play. Northwestern State Theatre was also asked to furnish pictures of several plays for exhibition in Washington, D. C. at a National Conference of theatre directors and technicians. Another set of pictures was sent to Europe for display in the occupied portion of Germany. Miss Varying from the conventional procedure of sending pictures away for selection, the 1949 POTPOURRI Beauties were nominated and selected in two campus contests. A group of men students nominated thirty contestants and Lt. Governor William Dodd, Mayor Carl Close of Alexandria, and Mr. Joe Webb served as judges in the final selection. They chose the top sixteen beauties and ranked six according to pictures and appearance on the stage.

The gaiety of the Christmas season at its peak for the 6th Annual POTPOURRI Ball served as fitting background for the presentation of Miss POTPOURRI of 1949, Miss Peggy Casemore.

Miss Casemore reigned over a court of equally winsome Southern belles selected, as was Miss POTPOURRI, by the yearbook staff.

The maids were: Polly Polk Dowden, Peggy Andrews, Margie Knight, Alida Bishop, June Ducournau, Margie Barnett, Joanne Russell, and Ava Louviere.

H O M E E C O N O M I C S

A young lady can not lose if she chooses Home Economics as a basis for a career. No other profession offers richer variety of occupations or greater personal satisfactions. A student has an opportunity to work toward two professions: a temporary one—wage earning, and a permanent one—homemaking. There is a place for practically every type of student: the artist, the scientist, the homebody, the business person, the student who yearns to teach, and the girl who wants to make this a better, happier world.

The Euthenics Club was organized on this campus in 1926 to promote professional spirit and cooperation, to foster socialibility among students doing Home Economics work, and to develop culture. Euthenics implies better living.

JOHNNY BANKENS

Functioning as an executive body and in a judicial capacity, The Vetstown Council is a relatively new organization on the campus, coming in the post-war period with the influx of veterans. The councilmen are elected in a general assembly of all married veterans and is headed by a Mayor, which is selected in a like manner. The officers are elected each semester.

The Council serves as the governing body of veterans' housing, acts as disciplinary tribunal for all married veterans, and promotes activities and agencies that are beneficial to their group.

The purpose of Phi Alpha Theta is to honor students with a general high academic attainment and who have a vital interest in history and who have attained high scholarship in this special study. The Phi Chapter strives to further the study of history at the undergraduate level and to encourage individual initiative even to the extent of training in the writing of history. A further purpose of the fraternity is to develop in the students with whom they associate a consciousness of the importance of contemporary development by supporting student forum discussions in open assemblies and special group studies of the social science students.

Phi Chapter makes an annual award on Honor's Day in the fall to the outstanding Social Science student chosen by the Social Science faculty.

PAN - HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of the five sorority presidents and two representatives from each group. The officers are chosen in rotation, five presidents. The local Pan-Hellenic is a member of the National Pan-Hellenic Conference.

The primary purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Council is to promote harmony among the different sororities on the campus, to promote co-operation and unity among all Greek letter organizations, and to pass rules and regulations for the welfare of the system. Each year the Council sponsors a tea in the fall for the freshman women students.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-Fraternity Council was organized at the college in the spring of 1938 to create a more congenial relationship among the fraternities on the campus.

The organization is composed of the three fraternity presidents and two representatives from each organization. The officers are chosen in rotation.

The purpose of the Inter-Fraternity Council is to pass rules and regulations for directing all fraternity affairs, especially those matters in regard to rushing and pledging. It has the authority to settle those matters of controversial nature which may arise among the fraternities.

It wasn't the most successful season the Demons have had, but the Purple and White came out on top in six of the nine games played and placed fourth in the newly organized Gulf States Conference. The Demons scored 209 points as compared with 94 scored by the opposition. Four of the six foes beaten failed to score.

Northwestern, 52; Barksdale Field, 0

In the first game of the year the powerful Northwestern eleven smashed an impotent Barksdale Sky Raider team, 52-0, to usher in the 1948-49 football season with a bang. The Raiders offered little opposition after the first eight minutes of the game, with the Demons charging up and down the field at will. Jackson, Coyle, Emmons, Beck, Taylor, Rubin scored for the Demons, with Ernest Davis converting four times.

Flush from their first win of the season, the Demons entered the Central Oklahoma game a little over confident and trailed 12-6 at halftime, after being pushed all over the field in the first stanza. The second half was a different story. The Northwestern team made the last half an NSC field day, scoring 20 points to win 26-12.

Northwestern, 0; Wofford, 0

The week following the Central Oklahoma game, the Demons journeyed to Spartanburg, South Carolina, to engage the Wofford College eleven. They played the Wofford team and had the same luck that four other teams who played the South Carolinians had. After see-sawing up and down the field for 60 minutes the Demons walked off the field with the score reading 0-0.

The Demons protected their undefeated record against Louisiana College after a gala Northwestern Day in Alexandria. Louisiana College loomed as a dark horse in the GSC but found their match in the Demons. Johnny Jackson and Harold "Dusty" Rhodes tallied for Northwestern with Davis making the extra point from placement. Northwestern fans literally took over Bolton Stadium that night and the griddero took the conference lead on the field.

Harry Turpin's boys won their fifth straight game, 49-0, over the Southeastern Louisiana College Lions in Hammond. The Freshman team played most of the game and seemed to be unable to make a mistake. Expecting a close contest Turpin had Davis try a field goal in the first quarter. It was good, but not necessary. Johnson, White, Givens, Jackson, Emmons and Morell tallied.

Northwestern, 7; La. Tech, 10

The annual State Fair game with Tech proved to be a disappointing one for the Demons. The Techmen edged the home team, 10-7, with a field goal off the toe of Joe Michael, one Techster who has gotten in our hair more than once. The game was a tight one, but it proved two things: That David Coyle was a talented runner and that Johnny Emmons could throw a pass like rumors said he could.

Coyle scored our touchdown with a flashy, dodging run off tackle and, of course, "Stinky" Davis kicked the extra point. Emmons completed the play of the day by completing a pass to Bill Quinn that covered 46 yards.

Still smarting from the defeat at the hands of Louisiana Tech, the Demons met the Mississippi Southern team, the power of the conference, with determination. But the overall strength of the Southerners smashed the Demon grid machine, 38-14. The Turpinites were handicapped by the loss of seven men on the injured list, and made a poor showing against the team that ran roughshod over everything in the conference.

Northwestern, 41; Ark. State, 6

After being defeated in two consecutive games, the Northwestern Demons really went into the Arkansas State game with the intention of winning. And win they did, 41-6. The Indians were outclassed in every department. They marked up a minus 2 yards gained from scrimmage, even though their coach had just written a book on the famous "T" formation. Bobby Johnson was the star of the day, throwing two touchdown passes to Q. T. Ford and personally carrying over two himself.

Northwestern, 7; Southwestern, 28

With the third position in the first conference football race at stake, the Demons met the Southwestern Bulldogs in the annual "N" club homecoming and were downed, 28-7. A quick kick by the Southwesterners that covered 90 yards proved to be the turning point in the game. The Bulldogs carried on from there for three quick TD's. It was the last college game for Ford, Thompson, Jackson, Cromwell, Rhodes, Lancaster, Jim White, Mayo, Quinn and Landreaux, all graduating seniors.

Northwestern State is noted for consistently strong basketball teams, and this year they came through with another conference championship—the first in the newly formed Gulf States Conference. This season marked the 35th consecutive year that H. Lee Prather has coached Northwestern State basketball teams.

Outside of winning the conference title, the Demons got the state bid to attend the National NAIB tournament in Kansas City, where they advanced to the quarter finals before being eliminated.

Two Northwestern State players, Claude Stoutamire and Bernard Waggoner, were honored at the close of the season with positions on the all-conference team. Stoutamire was leading conference scorer and a unanimous choice for a first string forward position on the all-conference.

BASKETBALL SEASON

And he sinks one against Springhill

One of Stoutamire's many field goals

Bernard Waggoner was second to his teammate in the conference scoring race. Stoutamire totaled 480 points for the season, including tournament play, and "Tussie" tallied 469 points to cinch the runner-up position.

The Demons played 28 games during the season and rang up 1728 points, an average of 61 points per game, while their opponents totaled 1327, for a 47 plus average. The Purple and White clad cagers won 23 and lost five for the season. Their conference win-loss record reads 14-2.

We started the season off fine, downing the Barksdale Field Sky Raiders, 99-35, with the Flyers taking the spotlight by freezing the ball the last three minutes to keep us from scoring a round 100 points. After Barksdale came Springhill, Central State and then Barksdale again, all in good order. Then we met Loyola of New Orleans in the Crescent City. The Wolverines beat us 57-43 for our first defeat of the year. That loss put us on the bottom of the conference standings.

Western Illinois came a long way to find that these basketball teams from the Cajun country are nothing to be sneezed at. They eased by us in the first of a two game series, 56-53, but the following night we turned the tables on them for a 56-50 victory. The next five games were all easy ones with the exception of Southeastern, the dark horse of the conference. By the hardest we downed the Lions by two points.

The next game was played in the Louisiana Tech cracker box, and our boys lost a hard 45-40 contest.

Luckless Loyola caught the Demons in a revengeful mood when we took on the New Orleans boys in our gym. A terrific onslaught of field goals and free shots spelled a 61-35 defeat for Loyola. We even trounced Southeastern the next game, 68-49, and went from there to a victory over Southwestern, 54-43.

After that it was smooth sailing. Tech took a little of her own medicine here, 57-46. Louisiana College, Austin College, Mississippi Southern and Centenary went down in rapid order.

Morris and opponent get off the floor.

Stoutamire fakes C. Strong of Centenary

The last two games of the season were against Centenary and the tension was high in both contests. The outcome of the conference rested on the first encounter and the bid for the national NAIB rested on the second game. The Demons won both games, the conference championship and the bid to the national tournament.

T R A C K

After being beaten out of a Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference title by a javelin throw last season, the Northwestern State Demons plan to enter the first Gulf States Conference track race with such vigor that the team should be able to offer its foes stiff opposition. The Demons have the material this year that combined with the expert coaching of Harry Turpin will make a mixture hard to beat.

The 1949 season will mark the twenty-third consecutive year that the NSC cindermen have been coached by Harry Turpin. Coach Walter Ledet will assist Head Coach Turpin with this season's track chores.

The Louisiana Intercollegiate Conference has been disbanded and the GSC has been formed. With the GSC came Mississippi Southern, Southwestern, Southeastern, and Louisiana Tech, all strong contenders for the conquest of the first Gulf States Conference track Crown. With a few breaks coupled with hard work, the Demons should be up there with the strongest bidders.

AQUATICS

Swimming at Northwestern State came into its own just last year, and since that time Coaches Guy W. Nesom and John Piscopo have made the Demon aquamen a team that can hold its own against the stiffest opposition—even against schools like Tulane, Texas A&M, Baylor and Southern Methodist University. Through the efforts of Coach Nesom, swimming became a letter sport here last year, when the NSC tankmen established an enviable record.

The Demons won six of ten swimming meets and placed second in a triangular meet with Texas A&M and Memphis Naval Air Station, winners of the national amateur crown last year; third in a triangular meet with Pensacola Naval Air Station and the University of Miami; and third in the Southeastern AAU meet at Atlanta, Georgia.

1949 Baseball Squad

After spending the majority of last year building a new diamond the Northwestern State baseball team will be ready to settle down to real action this season, sporting a new field fence and backstop. Coach Alvin Brown has a huge squad reported for the varsity. He'll have a hard time selecting his first and second teams.

BASEBALL

Gordon Bradshaw and Head-Coach Alvin Brown watching practice

Coach Brown has more than enough pitchers, and a plentiful supply of outfielders, and first, second and third basemen. About half of the squad reporting for training are Freshmen or Sophomores. Coach Brown can look forward to several outstanding teams after the one this year.

Several returning lettermen will give this season's team a definite boost in the direction of a conference championship. Big Al Nicosia, catcher and first baseman, Harold Haile, first sacker, Marion Benson, hustling centerfielder, will add to the team's chances for a championship. Such newcomers as Jimmy Cox, southpaw fireballer, Robert Pender, third baseman, and Ronald Martin, hurler, will be out mostly for experience this year, but should be hot next year.

Marion Benson, holdover from last year's nine, ready to hit.

G O L F

Sam Antony, LIC Medalist and No. 1 Demon Goller

Coach James Shultz, who was named housing director this year, still likes the coaching field. He is NSC's golf mentor and from all indications he's headed for a conference championship with linksmen Sam Antony, 1948 LIC medalist, Malcolm Russell, John Bowman, and Jerry West. The Northwestern State golfers will meet Springhill, Southwestern, Southeastern, Louisiana College, Louisiana Tech, and Mississippi Southern this season.

Coach Shultz with his number one and two boys Antony and Russell

TENNIS

The 1948 Northwestern State tennis team finished the season with a fine record. The 1949 team will have to dig in deep to complete the season with one that will compare with last year's. This season's team will play under a handicap, however. As we go to press, the tennis team is running their schedule and practice sessions without the help of a coach. Ed Durham, a member of the music faculty, coached the team in 1948 but resigned the position this year. Only two returning lettermen are on this year's team.

One of the most distinguished organizations on the campus, and surely one of the best known, the "N" club is composed of lettermen in any of seven sports connected with Northwestern State.

The "N" club is one of the most active organizations on the campus and annually sponsors the "N" club homecoming, the homecoming dance, concessions at sport events and this year was co-sponsor with the Physical Education Majors Club in the "H. Lee Prather Day" celebration.

In Appreciation

One of our more pleasant tasks this year is the expression of sincere appreciation to those friends without whom the 1949 POTPOURRI could never have been. We say, simply, "thanks" to:

The Shreveport Engraving Company staff for such wholehearted cooperation on their part . . . especially Mr. Robert See who played such a large part in the book's coming out . . . the artists and technicians who gave, without fail, their best . . .

The Benson Printing Company which added another year to a long record of real friendship and sincere interest for the book . . . Mr. E. W. Benson, our "guiding influence" . . .

Mr. Curtis Guillet for the touch of true artistry he contributed to features, classes, and organizations . . . to Curtis, everyone was photogenic . . .

Mr. Earl C. Coulon who proved to be a real sponsor, a friend in need, a constant help . . .

The college administration and business staff for their much needed help and counsel . . .

You, the student body, for your faith and willingness to provide the necessary support and capital . . .

And, last, but certainly not least, the firms and folks whose advertisements filled the necessary gap in funds that made this book possible . . . they are your sincere friends . . .

May we again say to those mentioned above, you have our heart-felt thanks.
